FULL Y DEV OTED

O
DAY 1

I COUNSEL YOU TO BUY FROM ME GOLD REFINED BY FIRE, SO THAT YOU MAY BE RICH, AND WHITE
GARMENTS SO THAT YOU MAY CLOTHE YOURSELF AND
THE SHAME OF YOUR NAKEDNESS MAY NOT BE SEEN,
AND SALVE TO ANOINT YOUR EYES, SO THAT YOU MAY
SEE. THOSE WHOM I LOVE, I REPROVE AND DISCIPLINE,
SO BE ZEALOUS AND REPENT. BEHOLD, I STAND AT THE DOOR AND KNOCK. IF ANYONE HEARS MY VOICE AND OPENS THE DOOR, I WILL COME IN TO HIM AND EAT
WITH HIM, AND HE WITH ME.

This isn't your typical devotional. This is a move of God, and it starts within you. He's chosen you. Will you choose Him back, all in, fully devoted?

The word devotion is not only an act of prayer or personal worship, but a wholehearted love, loyalty, and enthusiasm for a person or cause. It's a deep allegiance, a zeal for something or better yet, someone, that shapes our lives and choices. In fact, devotion speaks to a self-dedication—an all-in commitment.

Learning this got me asking a lot of questions that I now pass on to you: What are you devoted to? What excites you? What are you enthusiastically loyal to? Even all in for? What receives your zeal and your dedication? Or perhaps the better question to ask is who?

To live in devotion to God is to step beyond half-hearted living, past fear and worry, into a place of whole-hearted love and enthusiasm for Him. When you're devoted solely to Him, you're willing, energized, and motivated—walking in the passion and fire of God.

What if your daily dreaming with the Lord wasn't just about the "right" steps or even "bold dreams," but about developing the right heart committed to His dreams? Or better yet, a heart fully alive, committed to Him? His word says, I counsel you to buy from me gold refined by fire, so that you may be rich, and white garments so that you may clothe yourself and the shame of your nakedness may not be seen, and salve to anoint your eyes, so that you may see. Those whom I love, I reprove and discipline, so be zealous and repent. Behold, I stand at the door and knock. If anyone hears my voice and opens the door, I will come in to him and eat with him, and he with me (Revelation 3:18-20 ESV). This passage paints a picture of Jesus standing outside the church while the congregation gathers without Him.

How often do we find ourselves going through the motions—attending church, participating in activities, and learning about God's word—without truly inviting Jesus into the center of our hearts? How often do we approach our faith without full devotion, zeal, or complete surrender?

Jesus is knocking because He desires more than just a surface-level relationship—He wants in!

He doesn't want us merely attending church or going through the duties of Christianity; He wants to take up residence in our hearts. He wants to be present in every area of our lives, not just the parts we allow Him into. This is a "come to Jesus" moment where you realize that while you've given Him some access, you may not have given Him all access.

The good news is, in Christ, there is no condemnation. This passage offers hope, as Jesus stands outside the door, patiently waiting for us to invite Him in. So how do you let Him in? It begins with repentance—turning away from what holds you back from going all in and offering yourself fully to Him. Not just parts of you, but every part—your pain, shame, pride, anxiety, fear, and limited understanding. It also means surrendering your hopes, dreams, goals, and ambitions to Him.

We often look to the world for answers, validation, and fulfillment, but Jesus alone is the source of lasting satisfaction and true, eternal treasure. Material things and worldly status will fade, but when we fully surrender to Christ, we receive His "gold"—riches that are found in a deep, abiding relationship with Him. This wealth is eternal, transformative, and life-giving, as our hearts become fully aligned with His. True riches are found in a life wholly devoted to Him.

Today, I encourage you to open the door of your heart in a new way. Repent and seek Him with full devotion, zealously pursuing a deeper relationship with Jesus. He is knocking—will you answer? Will you let Him? Will you be fully devoted?

Take time today to renew your commitment to Him. Let this new level of devotion ignite your soul, setting you free to dream with the Lord. He has given you those dreams for a reason. As you walk in full devotion to God, not only will your life be transformed, but you will also begin to look more like Jesus, bringing His presence and heaven to earth.

Revel: Today is Day 1. Take a moment to reflect and take inventory of your heart. What, or better yet, who are you truly devoted to? Examine your priorities, desires, and affections. What would it look like to live excited and enthusiastic for the Lord? How would that shape your decisions, relationships, and daily actions? Consider the way your life might look if you were fully devoted to Him.

Align: Over the next 101 days, purposefully set aside time to be with Jesus and align your life with His word. Align your mindset, heartset, and dreamset with His truth so you can boldly live out the fullness of His revelation. Start today by closing your eyes and praying a heartfelt, fully devoted prayer, asking for divine alignment with the Lord in every area of your life.

Dream Stack: Start today by writing down 1-2 dreams you will focus on for the next 101 days. Write them here as a personal commitment to yourself and the Lord. Then, ask yourself: What is one thing I can do today to make this bold dream happen?
